A new choir for the Bafokeng youth

A new Bafokeng choir is set to be launched in the near future. The choir, which is to be known as the Royal Bafokeng Youth Choir, is the brainchild of Mr. Gareth Dry, Director of Performing Arts, Lebone II College of the Royal Bafokeng and Unathi Mtirara, formerly of the Black Tie Ensemble and currently with Opera South Africa. The aim is to expose outstanding young choristers from the Bafokeng Nation to the world and introduce them to an environment of excellence in music and choral singing.

According to Dry, this innovation is being supported by the Royal Bafokeng Institute which will offer bursaries to study music for one or more of the more promising musicians. As such, choristers are expected to be of a very high level. He added that the choir also has a generous sponsorship from Royal Bafokeng Holdings, but they are always on the lookout for other sponsors.

Along with many opportunities, the choir will be exposed to major festivals, not only in South Africa, but all over the world. "Our hope with the formation of this choir is to provide a strong foundation in music education that will serve these young people well in their future studies at tertiary institutions. The ultimate goal is that these musicians will then return to the region to continue to uplift music education at the grassroots level," said Dry.

Dry has made it clear that a high level of discipline and commitment will be expected from the choristers. He said members will have to attend at least 80 percent of the bi-monthly rehearsals as well as all of the major workshops and performances. Rehearsals will take place twice a month for 3 hours each at Lebone II College of the Royal Bafokeng in Phokeng. There will also be at least two full week-long workshops during the school holidays where the choristers will be expected to stay in the boarding houses at Lebone II. These weeks, he said, will culminate in a performance.

An incredibly talented musician himself, Gareth Dry was a member and soloist of the Drakensberg Boys' Choir School between 1988 and 1990, as well as a student conductor at the school between 1995 and 1997. After matriculating from St John's College in JHB, Gareth completed his Bachelor of Arts in Dramatic Art at Wits University.

In 1997 he set off to tour the world as a professional performer, appearing and starring in productions such as Starlight Express, Cats, Lanza – The Last Serenade and Antigone. In 2003 Gareth accepted the position of Head of Drama and Music at St David's Marist College in Inanda Johannesburg, before moving to Phokeng to take up the position of Director of Performing Arts at Lebone II College of the Royal Bafokeng in 2007.

He has been conducting choirs since the age of 12 and has worked with choirs and choirmasters all over the world. Apart from his Bachelor of Arts in Dramatic art, he also holds a Masters in Musicology.

The date for the auditions to select the best of the best is yet to be determined, but will happen within the next month. Young people, men and women, between the ages of 15 and 25 are eligible to audition.

All the interested people should contact Mr. Gareth Dry at Lebone II College of the Royal Bafokeng. Tel: (014) 566-3938, Cell:0731446886 or garethdry@lebonecollege.co.za

ROYAL BAFOKENG TERTIARY EDUCATION LOAN SCHEME (2010)

All members of the Bafokeng Nation are eligible to apply for a loan for a Degree course at a university on the RBI list. Applications for Diplomas, Certificate programmes and other non-Degree programmes will only be considered under special circumstances. Applications for tuition at non-accredited institutions will not be considered.

The loan covers accommodation in RBI accommodations, registration, tuition and a WIZZIT card which covers basic living expenses and a book allowance. Other expenses remain the responsibility of the student and his/her family.

A limited number of discretionary scholarships determined by Kgosi may be granted.

The number of student loans granted in any given year is determined by the budget allocated by the Supreme Council. For 2010 this budget was R33,500,000.00.

New applications from students who wrote Matric in 2009 were processed using the following criteria:

- There was a bona fide letter from a Kgosi confirming the applicant's Mofokeng status
- The Matric certificate allowed for admission to a Bachelor's Degree (4 subjects at level 4 or over 50% excluding Life Orientation)
- The total number of points (APS) scored by the student was 29 points or above. (See the examples below. Please note that LO (Life Orientation) does not count in the points score)

Many students who did qualify for admission into a Bachelor's Degree did not qualify for an RBI student loan as their points were 28 or lower. Some exceptions were made for a student who scored 28 points on the grounds that they performed superbly in Mathematics, Accountancy and Life Sciences, see example 1, 2 and 3.

Renewals of loans were processed using the following criteria:

- If a course was 3 years (a Diploma or Degree) and the student had either completed in 3 years or could expect to do so, then the loan was renewed.
- If a student had already been funded for the duration of the course, but had not completed it, then renewal was not automatic but required an appeal process and negotiation with the RBI Appeal Committee.
- If a student had performed well at Under Graduate level and completed his/her course in the required time, then Post Graduate applications were viewed favourably. However, if a student had already taken 4 years to complete a 3 year course then it was also referred to the Committee for negotiation.
- If a student had repeatedly transgressed RBI House Rules and brought the name of the RBN into disrepute, this was also referred to the Appeals Committee.
- The Appeals Committee took into consideration individual circumstances and personal difficulties and discussed these in interviews with students and their parents or guardians. Decisions regarding the renewals of loans were made bearing these factors in mind.

A student loan may be withdrawn if a student does not pass his/her course or who is guilty of social or criminal misconduct. The loan is granted for 1 Semester only and reviewed for the 2nd Semester.

Details of the number of students who have an RBI student loan, the institutions they are attending and their places of accommodation can be seen in the accompanying graphs.

A Supreme Council Policy change being considered for the near future is the implementation of a "means test" for all applicants. This will ensure that the loan is given to deserving students rather than students whose families are financially secure.

TVET AND VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Tertiary education is an appropriate career path for some students, but for many others vocational and skills training is more accessible and will ultimately lead to employment. To this end a programme is being implemented using the Phokeng Plaza as a base, which will meet the needs of many Matric leavers and those who are not suited to University. Details of this programme will be communicated shortly.

“A first of its kind” : Royal Bafokeng Supreme Council go to Parliament to teach and learn

Kgosi Leruo Molotlegi led a 86-strong delegation to Parliament (Cape Town) in October last year, in a move to align Royal Bafokeng Supreme Council processes to those of Government. The delegation consisted of members of kutle ya Kgosing, dikgosana, councillors and support staff. The team carefully packed their bags for the journey, which for some meant boarding a plane for the first time!

Although meeting with the Deputy President of South Africa, Kgalema Motlanthe was an honour, the most important aspect of the visit, according to some, was attending the various portfolio committee meetings. The delegation, in small groups, attended Co-operative Governance and Traditional Affairs, Public Accounts and Mineral Resources portfolio committees to name a few.

The trip turned out to be much more than just a “learning journey” for Kgosi, the Supreme Council and support staff. Here’s why:

The visit was inspired by Kgosi’s vision for Supreme Council to observe and learn from Parliamentary processes. This goal was achieved, but what we didn’t expect was the strong acknowledgement and applause that this objective received by all parties in the National Parliament – what they called “a profound display of democracy in action!”

So, in addition to the important lessons and skills that the Bafokeng delegation acquired during the visit, Parliament also realised a greater need to improve relations with traditional leaders and sovereigns whose role as custodians of African culture, history, and heritage continues to unify people of this nation.

Ultimately, the visit also enabled Kgosi to spell out the Royal Bafokeng Nation’s vision, and his dream of an educated, sustainable community, to public officials in the heart of national government during the course of the meetings and visits in Parliament.

Kgosi advocated for a better education system in South Africa, so that our children can stand on the global stage beside children from any other country and hold their own. He spoke about the need for a system that will nurture and mould them so that they can make prudent life decisions for the benefit of themselves and constant changes at Rustenburg society. This was a powerful demonstration of our leadership’s foresight and perseverance in improving our community as well as the country as a whole.

In a special seating with the North West Province’s members of Parliament, he spoke about the social challenges (poor educational system, community safety and Municipality) faced by Bafokeng, and gave an open invitation to these MPs to engage with the community on these issues.

The Bafokeng trip to Parliament was the “first of its kind,” in the words of the Speaker of Parliament in his Farewell Speech on the Occasion of the End of the First Session of the 4th Parliament, and this has important implications for traditional leaders throughout South Africa. Traditional governance and state structures must cooperate if we’re to realise Vision 2020, or the Millennium Development Goals, or any other long range plans. Kgosi’s ingenuity in planting the education seed means that national and local government’s service delivery efforts, together with the traditional leaders’ ideas and initiatives, can maximise the success of social and economic development programs. If the North West MP’s succeed in applying this principle in their other constituencies, they will reap the rewards of a more dynamic, more efficient service-delivery strategy.

The Bafokeng visit to Parliament paved the way for other traditionally-governed communities within South Africa to start looking at Government, Parliament and Public Entities as partners in governance and service delivery endeavours.

In sum, the Royal Bafokeng Supreme Council went to Parliament to learn, and found that they were also well-positioned to teach. This was a rewarding exercise and one which should set the standard for more learning journeys that we embark upon as Bafokeng.
